Business value created for Baiada

Baiada urgently had to replace a waterlogged ceiling that posed a WH&S risk. The client required Wiley to undertake the delicate task of demolishing existing EPS insulated Panel without disruption to their daily operation.

The challenging scope that Wiley delivered

Wiley provided in-house design and removed and installed new PIR panel ceilings within the existing Bird Hanging and Freezing Rooms. Epoxy floor repairs were also required, along with other minor works.

Baiada Project Points

- Wiley provided in-house design
- Work conducted inside a -2° environment
- WH&S - high risk activities
- Project planning and coordination with the client was key
- Plant was fully operational while works completed
- Strict timeline, 24 hour shifts to minimise disruption
- Factory Mutual (FM) approved insulated panel system installed
